The University of Melbourne - Norma Redpath Studio

arete Australia successfully completed the refurbishment of the Norma Redpath Studio for the University of Melbourne. Located in Carlton, this unique space offers residencies to Australian and international artists, writers, and researchers, encouraging engagement with local art and academic communities while supporting the development of new work.

The studio's design is centered around a tranquil, sun-filled internal courtyard, providing an inspiring environment for creativity and collaboration. Throughout the project, arete Australia worked closely with Studio Bright, McKenzie Group Consulting, and the University of Melbourne to deliver a refined and functional space that enhances the resident experience.
